TIPS FOR GETTING THE MOST OUT OF LIBBY

Open a book from in the reader, and go to Tips & Secrets for Bookmarks, Page Count, etc.

Adjust the audiobook playback speed - Switching between common playback speeds is as easy as tapping small clock icon at the top of the screen when you're listening to an audiobook.
Display eBook Progress and Peek at the Page Count

You can see what page you're on (and out of how many total) while in reading mode. The chapter and page counts will appear. Simply remove your finger from the screen to have it disappear.

Wait List information

By clicking on the small dot 'calendar' icon on the hold, you can view the approximate wait time, your place in line, how many copies are being used, and how many people are waiting for the title.

Where can I get help?

If you're having trouble, the Libby help site on the app offers many frequently asked questions. You can also bring your device into the library, (schedule an appointment with Library staff).

Changing your reading settings

Prefer reading in night mode or sepia tone? Want to enlarge your font or use our OpenDyslexic font? Open a book, and from in the reader, go to > Reading Settings and you'll be able to adjust text options.

You can choose to get "push" notifications from Libby to your device:

-When a hold becomes available
